

Sirs, I would hope that you don'y accept this proposal. I would like to see the novice bands retained at the current power levels. It makes it easier to have a place to operate at less than 100 watts without having to contend with someone using tha full legal power limit